Professional Summary

Diligent and motivated MBBS graduate with a strong foundation in medical knowledge. Besides being experienced at delivering medical care as a team member, I organized and led various medical events and conferences. Being proficient in communication and having a strong grasp of public speaking helps me build strong professional connections and gain valuable feedback. I am enthusiastic about shaping the future of medical education through technology, and using a variety of resources to achieve and help fellow medical professionals achieve their academic and professional goals. Apart from my medical background, I am also an experienced freelancer, having successfully delivered high-quality content to multiple clients worldwide.
